Senate Bill 10

On Tuesday of this week, Mayor Schroeder testified before the Senate Local Government Committee on SB 10 at the State Capitol. This bill would prevent a city or county from contracting with lobbyists or other professional advocates, or joining associations like TML, that engage in advocacy at the state capitol. Mayor Schroeder provided similar testimony against HB 749 on March 26, 2021. The Mayor's comments included the relative low cost of TML membership ($2,141) compared to the number of bills filed each session (over 2,000 so far this year) that impact local governments.

Today's legislative update indicates that SB 10 is currently pending in committee.

Joint Meeting with BEDC

We are developing plans for a June 7 at 5:00 pm joint workshop between the City Council and the Bastrop Economic Development Council. Please mark your calendars or let us know if that date won't work for you. More information to follow.

Old Iron Bridge

Thank you, Mayor Pro Tem Nelson, for coordinating a meeting with Ashby Johnson, Executive Director of the Capital Area Metropolitan Planning Organization. Mr. Johnson visited Bastrop on April 1, 2021 and met with Mayor Schroeder, Mayor Pro Tem Nelson, Trey Job, and myself to discuss ideas for funding the needed renovations to the Old Iron Bridge. It was a beneficial meeting, with Mr. Johnson sharing information about including our Loop 150, including the bridge, in a Transportation Corridor study. Including the Bridge and Chestnut Street improvements in that study could open the doors to federal funding for the project. We have since prepared a scope of work for the corridor study and have submitted it for review and possible approval to CAMPO staff. CAMPO has access to discretionary funds that can be spent on consultants or can provide in-house planning services.

We are also in discussion with TxDOT staff about using State Transportation development credits for shorter term funding for the bridge. Council was informed of our application for those funds in the March 19, 2021 weekly memo.

Recreation Program Membership Update

As of Thursday April 8, 2021 the Recreation Program has 78 memberships. Of these, 66 participated in Phase 1 programs.

Members have the opportunity to participate in group exercise classes, youth programs including a track clinic and nature hikes, and round dancing. Also available to members is a 50% discount to participate in the Monroe Factory Football Camp with Josiah, a 15% discount to participate in the Bastrop Opera House Summer Camp, and free registration for Saints of Texas sports programs.

We have yet to publicize information about participation in the pool at Bastrop State Park, as details are still being developed. Even without specific information about the pool, participation and interest in our recreation programming is strong.

Splash Pad to Open

The Splash Pad will open Monday, April 12 and remain open until September 6. The hours are 10:00 am to 8:00 pm.

ACM Gleason in BISD recruitment video

Assistant City Manager Rebecca Gleason was asked to appear in a BISD recruitment video that will be used to hopefully attract new teachers to the District. They filmed in the backyard of Copper Shot and Rebecca discussed the high quality of life in Bastrop.

Chamber of Commerce Ribbon Cutting

The Bastrop Chamber of Commerce is hosting a ribbon cutting next week for the Grand Opening of Roadrunner Radiology & Lone Star House Call Physicians on April 16 from 4:00 pm - 5:00 pm. Their offices will be located on Settlement Drive.

LCRA Community Development Partnership Program grant application denied

The City's application for LCRA grants for improvements to Delgado Park was denied. After inquiring as to what factors contributed to not being selected, we were provided the following:

Each application is scored and there are a variety of factors (low population, high poverty level, low per capita income level, community impact, economic benefit to the community, life-saving equipment, energy-efficient component, educational component, more than a minimum match, etc.) that contribute to a project's total score.

This cycle, CDPP received a record number of applications, making it very competitive. And the CDPP grants are limited to only 30% of the available funds being awarded to grants of $25,001 to $50,000. Usually that means about three grants are awarded in this category versus 22 or more grants of $25,000 or less. Bastrop has a low per capita income level but received no points for a high poverty level and did not receive the maximum points for low population (below 5,000). When you are competing in the larger grant category, it can be difficult when there are other organizations walking in the door with maximum points for all three of those.

TCEQ Proposes Rules Requiring Alternative Language for Certain Permits

The Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ) is proposing rules that would require translations for certain proceedings and applications for TCEQ permits. Specifically, the rules would apply to: (1) all air quality permit applications; and (2) water quality or waste permit applications when the closest elementary or middle school nearest to the facility or proposed facility is required by Texas law to provide a bilingual education program. The required translations will result in additional costs for cities seeking these permits.

Under the proposed rules, applicants required to publish an alternative language notice of their permitting action would also be required to: (1) translate notice of any public meeting; (2) provide professional interpretation services at any public meeting; and (3) translate certain information related to a contested case hearing.

The comment period closes on April 26, 2021. Written comments may be submitted to Gwen Ricco, MC 205, Office of Legal Services, Texas Commission on Environmental Quality, P.O. Box 13087, Austin, Texas 78711-3087, or faxed to fax4808@tceq.texas.gov. Electronic comments may be submitted at: <https://www6.tceq.texas.gov/rules/ecomments/>. All comments should reference Rule Project Number 2020-018-039-LS.

TCEQ will also hold virtual public hearings on this proposal on April 20 and April 22. TCEQ staff members will be available to discuss the proposal 30 minutes prior to and after the virtual hearings via the GoToMeeting Q&A chat function.

Broadband Legal Update: FCC and Federal and State Court Proceedings

The League's last general update on the status of various broadband actions affecting cities was in late 2019. At that time, the picture was fairly grim – especially at the Federal Communications Commission. The new presidential administration at the federal level led to the appointment of a new FCC chairwoman early in 2021. Nevertheless, cities face an uphill battle in most of the following proceedings:

- Federal Small Cell Order Lawsuit: Early in 2019, the FCC issued its “Declaratory Ruling and Third Report and Order” relating to state and local management of small cell wireless infrastructure deployment. It preempts cities in many areas, but the most significant provisions are: (1) “shot clocks” for small cell wireless facility siting review;

(2) limits on recurring fees for small cells in the rights-of-way, such as rights-of-way access fees, to a “reasonable approximation” of the city’s “objectively reasonable costs” for maintaining the rights-of-way or a structure within the rights-of-way; and (3) limits allowable local aesthetic requirements, including minimum spacing requirements.

Shortly after the order became effective, a nationwide coalition of cities and state leagues, including TML, filed a lawsuit to overturn it. In 2020, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit denied the coalition’s motion to postpone implementation of the order while the lawsuit advances.

After the case was transferred for procedural reasons, a three-judge panel of the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals issued its opinion in City of Portland v. the United States of America/Federal Communications Commission. The opinion was a mixed bag for cities, with most issues decided in favor of the cellular industry. The most important issue involved the cap on right-of-way rental (a.k.a., “franchise”) fees for small cell deployment. The panel upheld the provision limiting a city’s right-of-way fees to “an amount needed to recover administrative costs.” After several intermediate steps, the coalition appealed the federal order to the U.S. Supreme Court on March 22, 2021, and that appeal is pending.

- FCC Cable In-Kind Order and Lawsuit: In 2018, the FCC released a “Second Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking” that will allow cable companies to deduct the fair market value of a wide range of franchise obligations, including public, educational, and governmental (PEG) channel capacity and other PEG-related franchise requirements, from their existing franchise fee payments. If the FCC’s proposed new rules are adopted, cities that operate PEG channels will see reductions in franchise fee payments from cable operators.

The League is participating in another coalition of cities that filed comments on the proposal, filed a motion for stay at the FCC, and filed a lawsuit in September of 2019 in federal court to halt the implementation of the rules.

Following the President’s appointment of the new chair, the FCC asked the Sixth Circuit court to delay oral argument in the case, which is scheduled for April 15, 2021, to allow further review of the issue. Unfortunately, the court rejected the request on March 19.

- FCC Collocation Petitions for Declaratory Ruling: In September 2019, the Wireless Industry Association (WIA) and the Communications Technology Industry Association (CTIA) filed petitions with the FCC to further limit local oversight of wireless towers and pole attachments.

The FCC requested comments on the proposals and whether it should expand the scope of an existing federal law (Section 6409 of the Middle-Class Tax Relief and Job Creation Act of 2012) that already preempts certain municipal regulations relating to wireless towers. If enacted, the proposals from WIA and CTIA would substantially limit the authority of local governments to manage large wireless towers in their communities, as well as further limiting the control that pole owners, such as municipal utilities, have over pole attachments.

TML joined a coalition consisting of the National League of Cities, the Texas Coalition of Cities for Utilities Issues, and several cities to file comments in opposition to the proposal. The litigation was moving forward in the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals, but the FCC also requested an abeyance in this case to allow its staff more time to study the issue. In this case, the court granted that request and stayed all proceedings until July 2021, at the earliest.

- State Court Franchise Fee Lawsuit: This lawsuit claims that small cell rental fees, and the elimination of video franchise fees or telephone access line fees, violates the Texas Constitution's "donations" provisions.

In 2017, the City of McAllen and a coalition of around 40 cities sued the state to challenge the unconstitutionally low right-of-way rental fees in S.B. 1004. That bill, passed during the 2017 regular session, requires a city to allow access for cellular antennae and related equipment ("small cell nodes") in city rights-of-way, and it also entitles cell companies and others to place equipment on city light poles, traffic poles, street signs, and other poles.

The bill gives cities limited authority over placement, and it caps a city's right-of-way rental fee at around $250 per small cell node. The artificially low price per node is a taxpayer subsidy to the cellular industry because it allows nearly free use of taxpayer-owned rights-of-way and facilities. The bill does precisely what the Texas Constitution prohibits: It is an action by the legislature forcing cities to give away their valuable assets to a private company. That lawsuit was recently amended to add a claim based on S.B. 1152, the "franchise fee elimination" bill passed in 2019. That bill, S.B. 1152, authorizes a cable or phone company to stop paying the lesser of its state cable franchise or telephone access line fees, whichever is less for the company statewide. Because it also requires an unconstitutional gift of use of cities' rights of way, the pleadings in the small cell lawsuit were amended to include that bill.

These bills, if left unchecked, could lead the way to the complete elimination of all franchise fees in future sessions. That is why the lawsuit to prove that they are unconstitutional, which is still pending in state district court, is so important to Texas cities.

League staff will continue to participate in these proceedings and report on future activity.

Stay Engaged During the Legislative Session: Grassroots Involvement Program

During the upcoming Texas legislative session, Texas cities will face many challenges and opportunities. TML will need to mobilize our membership at key points during session. The Grassroots Involvement Program (GRIP) is one way to do so. Our GRIP survey focuses on a variety of items including your areas of expertise and involvement with other professional organizations. Most importantly, the GRIP survey asks how well you know various state legislators and if you are willing to communicate with those legislators during the session. With many unknowns on how the capitol will operate during a pandemic, TML's grassroots approach will be crucial to our efforts.

If you have a relationship with your legislator(s) or want to be more involved during session, please take the time to complete the GRIP survey. Past efforts have proven that such participation is a highly effective tool.

We ask that you complete the survey as soon as possible.

City Officials Testify

When the legislature is in session, nothing compares to the effectiveness of city officials testifying at the Capitol. City officials who take the time to attend legislative committee meetings – whether virtually or by traveling to Austin – to speak out on important city issues should be applauded by us all. The League extends its thanks to all those who are vigilantly representing cities during this session. If we missed your testimony let us know by an email to ford@tml.org, and we will recognize you in next week's edition.

The following officials testified in committee hearings held March 29 through April 1:

- Sally Bakko, Director of Policy and Government Relations, City of Galveston
